To whom it may concern,

It is our pleasure at the American Sikh Council (ASC) to support this new initiative namely, 'Crossroads: Journal of Global Perspectives'.

This journal is dedicated to critical and interdisciplinary study of history, economics, geopolitics, social sciences, and more.

It will bring accessible insights in plain language in these fields at a time of accelerating global change, economic uncertainties, geopolitical realignments, and evolving social structures.

By drawing together diverse disciplines, the journal will foster a more holistic understanding of global changes and local dynamics alike.

I am particularly impressed by the journal's commitment to target policymakers, educators, and an informed public seeking to navigate complexity and propaganda with clarity.

We at American Sikh Council (ASC) fully endorse and support this journal.

Respectfully,

Kavneet Singh
